Arkansas Asks Return of Gunman

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas has officially requested extradition from Texas of a man wanted in the slaying of a Prescott, Ark., policeman.

Gov. Nathan Gordon, acting governor during Gov. Orval Faubus' absence, to attend the Southern Governors Conference at Lexington, Ky., yesterday wrote Gov. Price Daniel of Texas making the request.

He told Daniel that Kenneth D. Nicely, 20, is charged in Arkansas with first degree murder in the slaying of patrolman Edward S. Verden at Prescott last Sunday night.

Nicely, of London, Ky., is hospitalized at Corpus Christi, Texas, with a bullet wound received after he drew a gun on a Kingsville, Tex., officer Monday. Nicely had been stopped for speeding through a school zone.

The wounded man also is wanted in the fatal shooting of a Kentucky automobile salesman last Saturday. Texas police said Nicely was driving a car used by the salesman, Tony Brown, in a demonstration at London.

The 22-year-old Verden was found dead in Prescott city jail and officers speculated that he had been killed by someone he had arrested.

Prosecutor Travis Mathis of Arkadelphia charged Nicely in the Verden slaying and requested extradition.

British Call for End to Shooting in Formosa Area

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today called on both Red China and the Chinese Nationalists to end their military activities in Formosa Strait immediately.

He urged further that "the whole world community should join in insisting that this matter should not be settled by force." He made no specific reference to the military role of the United States in support of the Nationalists.

The British leader spoke before the 81-nation General Assembly as U.S. and Chinese Communist representatives met for the fourth time in Warsaw in an effort to find a formula to stop the fighting.

He expressed his government's hope that the Warsaw talks would result in an immediate ceasefire which would lead to later negotiations on the various claims and counter claims involved.

Lloyd made it clear that Britain blamed the current crisis on the Chinese Communist bombardment of the off-shore island of Quemoy. He also praised what he called the conciliatory approach by the United States.

"We deplore the violent and provocative language used about the situation by the spokesmen of the Chinese People's Republic and of the Soviet Union," Lloyd said.

Feed Company Reimburses Foundation

Cameron Feed Mills of North Little Rock today reimbursed the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, in part, for the land upon which the Cameron Company will construct a mill at Hope.

The foundation recently purchased 0.47 acres of land here and conveyed it to Cameron as a site for the new mill and for such other future industrial expansion as Cameron might make here.

In a letter addressed to Judge James H. Pilkinton, Jr., president of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, Norman G. Nichols, Jr., comptroller of the Cameron Company, said:

"I am enclosing a check in the amount of $2,682.00 made payable to the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, Inc., as partial reimbursement of the consideration for the 0.47 acres of land on which we plan to build a mill. Please add my name to those who have previously expressed their appreciation for the manner in which you have handled this matter."

Threatens L. R. With Accreditation Loss

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—If Little Rock high schools are opened as private schools, they may lose their accreditation in the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

opened as private schools, they Wednesday by Dr. Stephen Romine, chairman of the commission on secondary schools for the association. He is a professor in the University of Colorado school of education.

Dr. Romine said that proposed private schools converted from previously accredited public schools would have to apply for membership as new schools. The process of becoming accredited requires appraisal and reporting more complete and more thorough than customarily required after a school attains membership, he said.

Dr. Romine said his opinion would apply equally to all school situations which might arise similar to those at Little Rock.

Troops Likely to Leave Lebanon Soon

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Rashid Karami, the new pro-Nasser Premier of Lebanon, predicted today American troops would quit this country by the end of October.

Karami told newsmen the question of the withdrawal of the remaining 9,500 Americans was a matter of first importance which would be discussed at his first Cabinet meeting.

"President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles both said the troops would be withdrawn when the Lebanese government requested it or when the situation warranted," Karami said. "Therefore, I am certain they will go soon."

Karami, a former rebel leader and an admirer of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, was named chief of Lebanon's new eight-man Cabinet Wednesday night.

The city remained under a day and night curfew to prevent a new flareup of Wednesday's fighting between extremist elements, in which 19 persons were killed. All shops were closed today and the streets deserted except for essential personnel.

They Talk But Do Nothing About It

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Southern governors talked and talked about it, but they were still "off the record" on school integration.

They ended their 24th annual conference yesterday without adopting a formal stand on the South's most controversial issue.

A governor who asked not to be identified said after a closed-door executive session.

"The feeling behind the scenes was that it would be better not to discuss any of the various resolutions on this Texaco case of the widely varying views of the governors, we felt it would do more harm than good to have an open fight."

A governor who favors integration, Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, proposed a resolution for a formal stand that was killed in the resolution committee.

A segregationist governor, Marvin Griffin of Georgia, and a moderate, Frank Clement of Tennessee, were prepared to introduce resolutions.

But the two said they held the proposals back after McKeldin's resolution lost in committee.

Judge Declines to Rule in L. R. School Leasing

By RICHARD DAW

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge John E. Miller declined today to advise the Little Rock school board whether it could legally lease 4 high school buildings for use as private, segregated schools.

Judge Miller said his court did not have legal authority to issue such advice. He added that the question involved the constitutionality of recently passed Arkansas anti-integration laws and could be passed on only by a 3-judge federal court.

In its petition to Judge Miller, the school board does not advocate leasing of the schools. It does ask him to rule whether it would be in contempt of federal court orders if it should lease the schools.

Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas closed the four high schools after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that integration at Little Rock's Central High must continue.

He then called for next Saturday a referendum on whether Little Rock residents want schools operated on an integrated basis.

He said that if they vote against integration, the high schools could be leased for operation as private institutions. He said this could be done under a state law passed about 1975.

U.S. Atty Gen. William Rogers told the U.S. District Court in Arkansas today that the Little Rock School Board private school leasing plan to avoid integration is not legal.

Rogers took the stand in a "memorandum of law" filed with the court.

He interceded after the Justice Department as "a friend of the court" had been served with a copy of the board's request for a ruling from U.S. Dist. Judge John E. Miller.

Both the board and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People are seeking a court ruling on the plan to keep the schools segregated by leasing them to a private corporation.

Several Southern states with similar private school plans to thwart federal integration orders are watching the Arkansas test with keen interest.

The NAACP asked Miller to restrain the board from leasing the school properties. The petition also asked that if private schools are opened they be required to admit Negro students under the integrated plan previously in effect at Central High.

The School Board has asked the court whether it may lease its buildings without being held in contempt.

Negro and white students fought Wednesday in Little Rock and in Chicago's South Side. At Norfolk, Va., students demonstrated quietly in an effort to get a high school opened.

Six Norfolk schools with 10,000 pupils face closure by Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. under Virginia's massive resistance laws if a final order to integrate comes. Their opening has been delayed pending court action. Already closed are schools at Front Royal and Charlottesville.

Private classes began at Charlottesville, where pupils of the Venable Elementary School carried their own chairs into basements and playrooms of residences for instruction. A committee was set up to start similar teaching of the ousted high school students.

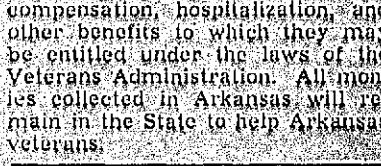

Citizens of the Front Royal community are planning to organize private instruction for their 1,000 whether public tax funds can be used to operate segregated private schools, as envisioned by Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Lester apparently will take the negative view.

Mrs. Joe R. Brewer, chairman of the women's committee, said Little Rock's two other television stations had refused the group similar "equal time" as granted by KATV. The committee sought free time, contending it would be used to answer a recent TV talk by Gov. Faubus.

B. G. Robertson of KTHV said

At Atlanta, two federal judges promised an early hearing on a suit by 28 Negroes to end segregation in the public schools.

New Walkouts Continue in Auto Plants

DETROIT (AP)—A rash of new walkouts today continued to cripple 1958 auto production.

Some United Auto Workers returned to their jobs but others went on strike in key spots, with the number of idle around the 60,000 mark. At one time Wednesday some 70,000 were out.

Salaried employees at General

he refused the time because "the governor had made a report as head of a sovereign state and I did not think 'equal time' entered here."

Doug Romine of KARK-TV said he offered time on a regularly scheduled program but the committee had not accepted it to his knowledge.

Motors huge technical center in Warren, Mich., were delayed at the gates by pickets of the center's 3,300 hourly workers.

GM's Cadillac division also was affected for the first time when 800 Detroit sheet metal workers went on strike. The company said the walkout could force shutdown of the main Cadillac plant in Detroit.

Some of Chrysler's Detroit area plants went back in operation this morning but were closed a few hours later by a strike of 300 truck drivers who transfer parts between plants. The company said additional shutdowns were threatened by the truckers' strike. Chrysler had about 20,000 off the job in 12 plants.

GM reported 7,400 went back at its Pontiac division in Pontiac, Mich., permitting recall of 1,500 at the Pontiac Fisher Body plant. The total number of GM idle was 31,000 in 12 plants. The company has accused the union of harassing tactics during current contract talks.

'Wild Man' Says McKeldin of Faubus

LEXINGTON, KY. (AP)—The Southern Governors Conference passed Gov. Orval E. Faubus as prospective chairman because of his actions against school integration, Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin said yesterday.

Kentucky Gov. A. B. Chandler was also passed by McKeldin told a student audience at the University of Kentucky. "because he has done a little integration."

The man elected at the close of the conference, Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi, "is a segregationist... but not a wild man," McKeldin said.

McKeldin said defeat in committee of his resolution favoring integration disappointed him. But he said the Conference "didn't elect Faubus chairman... (and to me, that's a good sign.)"

Al Lopez Is Back in 2nd
Place as Usual

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memo to Al Lopez: Welcome home, coach.

The nice guy skipper of the Chicago White Sox, after spending 54 days of the season in the second division and a month in the cellar, has clinched second place again.

In his 11 years as a manager,
the last eight in the majors, Lopez never has finished lower than second.

But while that 4-3, 10-inning victory over Detroit Wednesday kept his record clear, it also fattened affable Al's frustration. He's the only American League manager excepting Casey Stengel who each spring insists the New York Yankees can be had.

And since he came up to the majors in 1931 to manage Cleveland, he's the only skipper who has managed to beat the Yankees, taking the 1934 flag when his Injuns won 111 games, an AL record.

Last year, Lopez quit the Tribe and joined the White Sox into their first second place finish in 37 years.

Lopez is back at the old stand already signed for '39.
The Yankees, who had lost six straight since the day they clinched the pennant, ended their longest losing string in more than two years by beating Boston 7-5
Wednesday.

Cleveland blew a chance to break a third place tie with Boston and Detroit by losing 7-4 at Kansas City. Baltimore handed the Washington Senators their fifth shutout in six games, 2-0, on the three-hit pitching of Arnie Portocarrero.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs clubbed San Francisco
10-3 and Los Angeles beat St.
Louis 4-3 in the only games.

The White Sox won on Jim Landis' triple and Sherm Lollar's single in the 10th off losing reliever Tom Morgan (2-5). Don Rudolph
(1-0) won it in relief.

Boston's Pete Runnels (1-for-4) kept the AL lead at .324, while teammate Ted Williams (2-for-3) passed Detroit's Harvey Kuen for second place at .320.

Americans Ahead in Yacht Race

By SIDNEY C. MOODY JR.

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — The British, their hopes for the American's Cup all but swamped in the bubbling wake of the shark-swift American defender, Columbia, are whistling for wind in today's third race.

Trailing 2-0 in the best-of-7 series, they're banking on wind and more wind to get the British challenger, Scythre, off its haunches.

"It's getting better but still not enough yet," said Colin Ratsey, Scythre's assistant helmsman, at Columbia sailed out of sight
Wednesday to defeat the challenger by almost a mile and a half.

At the finish Scythre was just a grey ghost barely visible on the hazy horizon.

The British had said that winds up to 12 miles an hour were what they wanted for best results. They got it Wednesday. But, said Rat-sey after the race:

"Scythre's designed for a little more wind. We still haven't got up to the wind we expected to find here, 15 knots."

New Hurricane Is Churning Off Carolina

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Helene churned slowly northwestward today toward the Carolina coast—some 350 miles distant—and the Weather Bureau warned shipping to stay out of its path.

The storm's highest winds were estimated at 80 miles an hour in squalls. Gale winds extended outward 200 miles to the northeast and 110 miles to the southwest.

If it continues its present course, the storm will hit the mainland at or near the coastal point where South and North Carolina meet. So far, there has been nothing to indicate any deviation from that course. But, at its present forward pace, some nine miles an hour, many hours would elapse before even the fringe winds would approach the coast.

Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster, reported that the factors which could govern Helene's future course are so evenly balanced right now that "we must simply wait and watch. Any predictions now of its future course would be pure guesswork."

The latest reports from ships showed no gale winds within 250 miles of the Carolinas.

However, the Weather Bureau said tides will increase gradually along the Carolina and Georgia coasts today and tonight.

Old Folks Need License, Says Bennett Now

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Reversing an opinion issued Monday, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett yesterday ruled that the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission could legally charge state residents over 65 years of age for hunting and fishing licenses.

Bennett held void a 1951 legislative act which provided for free hunting and fishing licenses to elderly persons. He said a recheck of the case showed that the Arkansas Supreme Court had ruled in a 1953 decision that the legislature could not abridge the authority of the Game and Fish Commission. In the opinion issued by the attorney general's office Monday, the old law was held in effect. The opinion recited sections under which older residents could get free licenses by applying to county clerks.

Bennett said that under the new decision it would be up to the Game and Fish Commission whether to adopt regulations permitting the older residents in the state to fish and hunt without charge. The commission has not taken any action to this end. The state charges a license fee for all applicants 16 years of age or older. In another opinion yesterday, the attorney general's office ruled that a school district cannot submit alternate millage tax rates to voters in budget election notices. The Truman School District wanted to submit two millage rate proposals in a school election notice to be published next week. The district officials said the move was prompted by failure of the county to complete a reassessment of property values. Asst. Atty. Gen. John I. Haskins advised C. E. Parker of Truman, superintendent of schools, that the state Constitution permitted only the publication of one millage rate.

Eighty husky dogs who accompanied the British expedition to the South Pole this year have been given to Norway where they will draw ambulance sledges.

Unwelcome addition: The new volcano, Ilna Nova, which burst out of the Atlantic near the Azores about a year ago has added a square mile to the area of the Portuguese possession.

It was a wandering man of the sea, a sailor, who really discovered New Mexico. A shipwrecked Spanish explorer, Cabeza de Vaca, walked from the Gulf Coast to New Mexico in 1536.

The BRAND RIDER

by ED LA VANWAY

THE STORY: Lane meets Verdugo while riding one morning. Verdugo, attacked Lane on the latter's first day in town and Lane disarmed him, Verdugo asks for the return of the knife Lane took and Lane returns it.

Chapter XVI

The Four - Arrow yard was filled with buggies and buckboards, and the corral was crowded with the teams of the guests. Lane found a gathering of men under a cottonwood in the back yard. On a bench lay a keg, and the men all held tin cups; even the red-haired sheriff held one. George Finewalt, a portly man of medium height, gray headed and leathery faced, called, "Hold on, John," and Lane reined in.

Finewalt came toward him with a cup of whisky, but he said, "No, thanks, George. Not now."

"I'll drink with you after a while," Lane said.

He had hired two Mexican youths to do chores around the ranch. Both of these had been tending the barbecue spit, but one of them followed Lane to the corral to take care of the two horses. Lane then came back by the cook-shack, looking inside it. He found the place empty. Pedro Rodriguez had taken over the cook-shack during the absence of Schultz with the roundup wagon, and should have been here now, cooking up grub to go with the beef. Turning back out, Lane stopped at the barbecue pit, asking the youth there, "Where's Pedro?"

"He saddled a horse and rode away, senor."

The youth pointed toward the north. At first Lane could see nothing unusual in that direction, but then he noticed, high in the sunlit sky, a circle of buzzards. Lane decided that wolves had pulled down a yearling. Whatever it was, he would soon know, because the height of the buzzards told him that Rodriguez had already reached the spot. He went on to join the men around the whisky keg.

Finewalt was chewing on a chert root that had gone out. Relighting it, he nodded his head at the sheriff and said to Lane, "Tom's scared. See how white around the gills he looks."

Murdo Mitchell said, "Getting hitched up to a pretty girl is enough to scare any man."

"I'm a mile nervous," the gaunt lawman said. "I admit it." John Lane wasn't scared or nervous, but there was a hard knot of disappointment in him. He had hoped to stop the marriage somehow, and suddenly he realized he couldn't stay here and watch this crowd make merry. He wouldn't be here tomorrow, either, when Irma became the wife of this lanky badge - totter. No, he would ride back down to the wagon again, after a while, and stay there.

Mrs. Erwin was standing in the kitchen doorway when he put the dipper back. She said, "John, will you come in for a moment?"

Lane stepped into the kitchen and started to follow Mrs. Erwin into the living room, which was noisy with the conversation of womenfolk. Mrs. Erwin indicated a door that gave into a back bedroom, however, and said, "Irma wants you to see her wedding gown."

The girl stood in the center of the room, a vision of loveliness in white satin. "How do I look?" Lane swallowed. "It's been a long time since I saw a girl in a wedding dress."

Irma made a slow turn for him, lifting her skirts, and he crushed his hatbrim with a grip that whitened his knuckles.

"Look all right behind?"

"Prettiest thing I ever saw," Lane said, and then he was swirling into the girl's long-lashed eyes. The answer came to John Lane then - he realized why Irma was marrying Tom Cole. Except for Mrs. Erwin, she had no one. She had no menfolk whatever, and deeply flattered for male strength to draw upon when her own courage faltered. There was, for a woman, Lane knew, something solid and comforting about Tom Cole.

"Wish me happiness?" Irma asked.

"I can't."

She searched his face and said in a small voice, "Are you angry with me, John?"

Lips tight and gray eyes smoldering, he caught her by the shoulders and pulled her against him. He held her there, crushing her wedding gown. Her eyes were pools of mystery, of understanding, too, though, and submission. Lane kissed her, hard, and part of his mind told him not to be so rough with her. He kissed her again more gentle about it. Tears welled into her eyes, and suddenly Lane heard someone gasp as though shocked and outraged.

Someone came in the door.

Irma pulled away from him, cheeks coloring.

Lane turned to meet Karen Mitchell, looking and highly pleased.

He said with defensive anger, "I grabbed her and kissed her. She couldn't help it."

With a faint smile, the sheriff's sister said, "Don't apologize to me. She not my intended."

Lane's fists tightened on his hat.

"You're right, Mrs. Mitchell. Tom Cole's the one I should apologize to."

He went out onto the back porch. A calmer mood took possession of him and he reflected upon the expression in Karen's eyes. Finding Irma in Lane's arms had not only pleased her; it had made her downright happy.

Canada Shifts to Missile Protection

defense emphasis from jet interceptors to ground-to-air missiles was announced Tuesday by the Canadian government.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said two Bomarc anti-aircraft missile bases will be established and that final decision has been postponed until next March on whether to order limited production of Canada's supersonic Arrow fighter.

The Bomarc, a U.S. weapon guided from the ground by the same radar system used to control intercepter operations, is capable of carrying a nuclear warhead. The two bases, to be built in northern Ontario and Quebec as part of the Norad defense system, will be completed by 1961 at a total cost of $64 million dollars.

TB Group to Observe 50th Anniversary

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Tuberculosis Assn. will open its 50th anniversary conference here today, with a new leaf for detecting the disease high on the list of topics for discussion.

The test is the intra-dermal "Mantoux test". An association spokesman said that while X-rays are still one of the most important diagnostic tools, the field of detection is moving more away from patch tests and toward intra-dermal tests.

The patch test, in which a tuberculin derivative spread patch was placed on the arm, often was found invalid. Children tended to remove it, or the derivative was seuffed or came loose from perspiration.

In the new method, a slight injection of the derivative is placed under the top layer of skin. Reaction to it, as in the patch test, determine whether the tested person has tuberculosis.

The State Board of Health recently reversed an old ruling against use of the intra-dermal method and its use is planned in a limited program in Pulaski County public schools later this year.

The first general session of the Association's meeting will begin today with lectures. Also on the program will be an address by James Stone, executive secretary of the National TB Assn.

The 50th anniversary dinner meeting will be held tonight.

The conference will conclude tomorrow.

Man Indicted on Mail Fraud Charge

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal grand jury yesterday indicted Joseph Parkinson Newsham, 63, on mail fraud charges.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Lloyd Melmon said Newsham, arrested in Hot Springs, Ark. Sept. 5, was charged with obtaining from the New Orleans investment firm of Scharff 1 Jones, Inc., a $1,000 negotiable bond of the Mississippi River Bridge Authority by giving a fraudulent check on the Chicago National Bank.

Postal inspector Jack Staples said Newsham was released July 1 from the Federal Correctional Institution at Seagoville, Tex., after serving a term for mail fraud.

Staples said Newsham, before arriving in New Orleans, had made similar deals in Birmingham, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., St. Louis, Mo. and Shreveport.

Newsham is held in Birmingham where charges were filed before his arrest in Hot Springs on the New Orleans case.

To File Appeals in Virginia Case

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Attorneys announced today that appeals will be filed on behalf of all 30 of the Negro pupils denied immediate admission to white schools in Arlington County.

U.S. Dist. Judge Albert V. Bryan ordered last week that four of the children be admitted but postponed their move until a new semester starts Feb. 2. He held that if immediate action were ordered the formalities of putting his ruling into force would cause enough delay to break up a semester.

Bryan declined to order transfers from Negro schools for the others.

Attorney Frank D. Reeves said the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals will be asked to order prompt white school enrollment for all 30 children.

The 30 integration applications had been rejected by both the State Pupil Placement Board and the Arlington School Board.

John Kennedy Acts Like a Southerner

By HELMAN MORIN

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Judging from what they're saying about Sen. John Kennedy at the Southern Governors' Conference today, you would think he was Dixie-born, a descendant of Robert E. Lee, and a man who eats hominy grits and corn pone three times a day.

Kennedy, a Yankee from Massachusetts, is that popular in the South, so they say.

In any discussion of the Democratic presidential nominee in 1960 Kennedy's name leads the field by a wide margin here.

"The South likes Kennedy," said Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia. "He's got a lot of folks down our way," said Mississippi's James P. Coleman.

"I find more favor for Kennedy than any other one person," said Gov. Gray Collins of Florida. "Basically, Florida Democrats feel he's a good prospect to win, he's sound, and he has the qualifications."

What about the religious factor? Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. Would this cost him votes in the heavily Protestant Southern states?

Southerners reply with a vigorous "No."

They say religious feeling has evaporated in the South to a point where it is no longer a major political consideration.

"I'll put it this way," said Tennessee's Frank Clement. "I hope that no member of my own family would vote against a man because of his religion, be he Catholic, Protestant or Jewish."

Kennedy has been working hard in the Southern states for more than a year. He has traveled continually, accepted innumerable invitations to speak. He seems to have made a highly favorable impression.

Today's Wonder Drugs Work Miracles But Old Fashioned Faith, Laughter Good Healers

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Today's wonder drugs work miracles, but old-fashioned prayer, faith and laughter are still potent healers.

This story of a young wife with three children seems to prove a point. It began last March when the wife telephoned her husband who was in Holland on a business trip.

"I'm afraid I have some terrible news," she said. "The doctors say I have tuberculosis."

"But are they sure?" asked the staggered husband.

"Yes. The X-rays show two spots. One is a bad cavity. They want me to go to the hospital to-tomorrow."

And then over the telephone came her unsuppressible laughter. "What's funny?"

"Nothing. But it's better than having to go tonight."

The husband hurried home. The doctor's were right. He helped his wife pack and ordered a taxi for the hospital. Tearfully, she said goodbye to her children.

It was a gray day, one of those dainty London afternoons when the mist shrouded buildings blended mournfully into the slate-colored sky.

"The taxi bumped along—and to the husband's horror—began to overtake a funeral procession.

During the next two vital weeks the wife was treated with the new miracle drugs of science. Telegrams came to her bedside from friends in several parts of the world.

She was, Russian-born and one message from Moscow said the Orthodox priest at St. Peter and Paul had lighted some candles and offered prayers for her recovery.

From Lancaster, Pa., a Catholic family said its members were praying daily.

A Presbyterian minister in a Deep South city messaged he was a Jewish family radioed from America: "You are always in our prayers."

The wife improved but her doctors said an operation was necessary. They took out a rib and two sections of her right lung.

"Ah, well," she said with a smile. "I always did talk too much."

Three days and four blood transfusions later, the wife pointed feebly to a sign on her hospital door.

"Engaged," said the sign. "Honey," she said to her husband, "will you scratch out that word 'engaged'?"

"Yes, but why?"

"Well, after 15 years married life, don't you think it should at least read, 'married'?"

The eminent doctor beside her bed smiled. He shook his head. Surgeon to King George VI, he was one of the world's greatest authorities on tuberculosis.

"Drugs and operations work miracles," he said. "So does laughter such as that."

This week the wife was allowed to dress and go outside the hospital grounds with her husband to have tea.

Her gaiety seemed to fill the sunlit garden—even when she said a quiet prayer of thanks.

I know the story's true because the wife's my wife.

KINETO, England (AP)—The locomotive of an ammunition train collided with an army truck at an unguarded crossing in a blinding rain Tuesday night. Six soldiers were killed but there was no explosion.

ETON, England (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Arthur Charles Vallerian Wellesley is a good athlete and a family traditionalist.

He entered Eton College Tuesday, just as the mules of his family, among the first things he looked over were the playing fields.

Young Wellesley's great, great-grandfather was the Duke of Wellington, who whipped Napoleon and said, "The Battle of Waterloo was won on the playing field of Eton."

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Indications mounted here today that the Far East cease-fire talks between the United States and Communist China are rapidly approaching a climax.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam studies new instructions for Thursday's fourth conference with Red China's envoy, Wang Ping-nan.

Informed sources said this meeting was likely to be the definitive one — one way or another — because President Eisenhower plans to issue a formal Far East policy statement in Washington Friday.

U. S. sources have indicated all along that about two weeks should elapse whether there was a good chance of negotiating a cease-fire, that period is now almost up.

TIZI OUZOU, Algeria (AP) — French army soldiers barred all roads around this Algerian mountain town Tuesday, imposing a virtual 24-hour daily curfew before France's important constitutional referendum.

Helmeted troops manned roadblocks on the outskirts of every fortified town and village in the Grande Kabylie area, one of the strongholds of the rebellion against French rule.

Gn. Jacques Faure, who commands the zone, said he issued the order to prevent the population from carrying out rebel orders to desert the villages in order to avoid voting. The referendum begins Friday in Algeria and continues for three days.

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, arrived today with nearly 700 American pilgrims. The pilgrimage has been visiting Roman Catholic shrines, including the famous grotto of Lourdes.
